How to adapt a course to fit my space available ?

- Some courses lend themselves more than others to being adapted… If you are hoping to adapt a course by more than a modest meter in each direction, then please do lay it out and send a photo to admin@rallyonline.org for a Y/N on whether it'll be acceptable.
- Possible ways to adapt include slight shrinkage of distances between exercises where the course plan shows them being set above the minimum (2.5m) gap…. Slight shrinkage of space between cones if you have a smaller dog /neat feet…. And putting your marker signs onto a wall to make full use of available floor space!
- If you are attempting to adapt a course – please keep in mind the view visible on the camera is what is important – rather than what you see when working around the course… particularly for the video to show a marker where the sign should go! Check that the camera /judge can see signs placed flat on the ground the far side of the ring!
